

BAJA PACKING CHECKLIST

Whale sharks, sea lions, island camping and mountain pools. Tick it off as you pack.

WEATHER

Warm, sunny days.
Cooler, windy nights at camp.

PLUGS

Type A and B, like the US. No outlets at camp.

MONEY

Cards in La Paz. Pesos for tips and markets.

DRESS CODE

Relaxed. You'll live in swimsuits.

MUST-HAVE

Reef-safe sunscreen, and lots of it.

OCEAN DAYS

- ☐ 2 or 3 swimsuits
- ☐ Long-sleeve rash guard
- ☐ Thin wetsuit top (if you run cold)
- ☐ Cover-up or quick-dry shorts
- ☐ Wide-brim hat that ties on
- ☐ Polarized sunglasses with a strap

CAMP NIGHTS

- ☐ Fleece or warm sweater
- ☐ Long pants or leggings
- ☐ Warm socks
- ☐ Something cozy to sleep in
- ☐ Light windbreaker

SHOES

- ☐ Trail runners with good grip
- ☐ Water shoes or sport sandals (boats and rocks)
- ☐ Flip-flops or slides

DOCUMENTS AND MONEY

- ☐ Passport (6+ months validity)
- ☐ Travel insurance details
- ☐ Debit card plus a backup card
- ☐ Some pesos in small bills

HEALTH AND TOILETRIES

- ☐ Reef-safe sunscreen and SPF lip balm
- ☐ After-sun or aloe
- ☐ Motion sickness meds
- ☐ Insect repellent
- ☐ Biodegradable wipes
- ☐ Dry shampoo
- ☐ Period products
- ☐ Prescription meds plus extra days

TECH AND EXTRAS

- ☐ Power bank (no power on the island)
- ☐ Headlamp
- ☐ Waterproof phone pouch or dry bag
- ☐ Extra photo storage
- ☐ Backpack or soft duffel, not a roller

THE THING EVERYONE FORGETS

A warm layer. Everyone packs for the beach and then shivers in the tent at night.

MY EXTRAS
